among others; and take additional classes in one of the above areas of concentration. In that case, a federal programmatic ramifications.

pregnancy is treated in the same manner as other volunteer health conditions which require medical attention but also have programmatic ramifications.