rah - the question of artificial lubricants and their relative conception "friendliness" is one of the more controversial in low-tech fertility-- if discussion on the newsgroups is any guide.

written informed consent was obtained from all the parents and participants aged 8 years gave their written assent.

ill make sure to bookmark it and return to read more of your useful information.